

HIS Annual Conference 2025

Sponsorship and exhibition prospectus

Goodenough College, London 17-18 June 2025

Welcome

Healthcare Infection Society (HIS) is the leading membership organisation for experts in the prevention and control of healthcare-associated infections (HCAIs) in the UK and beyond.

Following the introduction of our first highly successful Annual Conference in 2024, we're delighted to launch HISCON 2025: our flagship 2-day in-person conference for IPC professionals.

The event provides a unique opportunity to connect with decision-makers and future influencers in healthcare environments, demonstrate your brand as a leader and support of the IPC profession, and learn about emerging issues and the latest developments in infection prevention and control.

Join us for HISCON 2025 where we explore Next Generation IPC in a forward focused programme covering:

- Introduction to the new NHS Estates Technical Bulletin (organised in collaboration with the Royal Society for Public Health)
- Novel aspects of the built environment
- Artificial Intelligence
- Whole genome sequencing
- Emerging hot topics in IPC
